Art In The Age Of…

Published in conjunction with the three-part exhibition series Art In The Age Of…, at Witte de With Center for Contemporary Art, Rotterdam, in 2015, this publication investigates future vectors of art production in the 21st century, highlighting the circulation of art and its underlying economies with the aim to chart new topical areas of urgency, spanning Energy and Raw Material, Planetary Computation, and Asymmetrical Warfare.

Bringing together research by artists involved in the various shows through interviews, visual representation and commissioned interventions, this publication visually reflects how the exhibitions bleed into each other; artists from one show move into the next with the same or different works, thus reflecting the effect of an artwork’s re-contextualization within the exhibition space and the interpenetration of each exhibition’s area of research.
