

Space Shifters

£27.99

Space Shifters features 20 leading international artists whose work addresses the intersections of perception, sculptural space and architecture.

Beginning with the pioneering use of innovative sculptural materials in the 1960s, the exhibition (and this accompanying catalogue) explore the ways in which artworks engage or alter the viewer's perception of the surrounding architecture.

The development of these concerns is traced over the course of the past four decades and concludes with artworks from the present day.

Artists include: Jeppe Hein, Alicja Kwade, Roni Horn, Richard Wilson, Anish Kapoor, Yayoi Kusama, and Felix Gonzalez-Torres, among others.

Published on the occasion of the exhibition, Space Shifters at Hayward Gallery, London (26 September 2018 – 6 Jan 2019).

Key Selling Points

- An attractive catalogue discussing and displaying artworks that use light and space to alter and enhance perceptions
- An eclectic and international selection of artists
