Album Pacifica
Mohini Chandra
£30

This is a new artist's bookwork featuring over 100 images that Chandra began to collect of her Fiji Indian family who are dispersed across the globe. It stands as homage to and an attempt at ‘reuniting’ her family.

However, Chandra has literally inverted the traditional family photograph by presenting the entire series of photographs in verso, revealing only the back of each image with the photographer's stamp, hand-written inscriptions, and general wear and tear. These details become clues or evidence not only to Chandra's personal background but also to the ways in which we all rely on the visual as proof of history. As she says, ‘While the viewer is denied the actual photograph, they are able to conjure up an ‘imaginary’ photographic landscape. The work evokes a space in which the audience’s own histories and experiences can be imagined’. Signed limited edition!
