

Rashid Rana
Everything is Happening at Once

£30

This publication celebrates internationally acclaimed artist Rashid Rana's first solo public exhibition in the UK.

The exhibition Rashid Rana: Everything is Happening at Once was first presented in Cornerhouse, Manchester in 2011 as part of the Asia Triennial 11 and subsequently in 2012 at New Art Exchange, Nottingham. It included new and recent works that cut across conventional notions of the scale and status of the photographic object, opening up its potential to represent cultural, social and physical realities.

The beautifully illustrated publication includes an introduction by co-curators Alnoor Mitha, Artistic Director of Asia Triennial Manchester 11 and Research Fellow at MMU MIRIAD and Sarah Perks, Programme and Engagement Director, Cornerhouse; an essay by David Elliott, curator, writer and cultural historian; and an interview with Rashid Rana conducted by Hans Ulrich Obrist, curator, writer and Co-director at the Serpentine Gallery.

The title is published by Lisson Gallery in association with Cornerhouse.
