

Geoffrey Farmer
Let's Make the Water Turn Black

£29

The artistic practice of Geoffrey Farmer integrates forms of collecting and scholarship employed by cultural historians, and draws on a diverse repertoire. After extensive research, the artist builds collections that unite aspects of visual art, literature, music, politics, history, and sociology, and crystallise in sprawling theatrical installations.

This publication, offers a detailed insight in Geoffrey Farmer's complex installation Let's Make the Water Turn Black, and contextualises it with his other script-based sculptural and kinetic works since the early 1990s.

In 2012, Geoffrey Farmer contributed his Leaves of Grass (2012) to Documenta 13; in 2011, he participated in the 12th Istanbul Biennial. His work has been on display in numerous solo shows, as well as at REDCAT, Los Angeles, and Casey Kaplan Gallery, New York (both 2011). Farmer also participated in the project The Garden of Forking Paths (2011), initiated by the Migros Museum of Contemporary Art.
