

Keep This Sex Out Of My Sight

£24.95

Ever since women artists gave themselves the right to express their sexual fantasies, their work has reserved surprises for those who once expressed their fantasies for them.

For the artists whose texts and images appear here, obscenity has become a territory in which lurks the source of the fear of their bodies. In it can be conjured the mutilating weight of masculine observation and its post-religious, obscurantist remnants, where pornography is the response to the fear of the female sexual organ.

Showing the unshowable parts of the body flies in the face of social constraint, of plays for power where sexual liberation and liberation are all too often confused, where sex becomes political because of its integral role in the field of individual control.

In a raw language that ignores taboos and describes images that are sometimes hard to cope with, these women speak of sex like Courbet painted, The Origin of the World.

This book is a hymn to women's sex, a sanctification of a feminine desire so often erased, hidden, and forgotten.

Featuring the work of various artists including Valie Export and Carolee Schneemann.

Product Details

Artist(s)	Valie Export, Carolee Schneemann, Hannah Wilke
Author(s)	Marie-Joseph Bertini, Chrystel Besse, Arlette Fontan, Françoise Gaillard, Elvan Zabunyan
Publisher	Dis Voir
ISBN	9782914563109
Format	softback
Pages	128
Illustrations	170 colour and b&w
Dimensions	215mm x 165mm
Weight	330