

It Could Happen To You

A K Dolven

£11.95

The first English-language publication dedicated to the work of Norwegian artist Anne Katrine Dolven, It Could Happen to You catalogues five film and video portraits produced between 2000 and 2001. While alluding to paintings by the Norwegian master Edvard Munch, Dolven also adds recognisably contemporary elements to her treatment of landscape and still life.

This compact and elegant hardback publication is illustrated in colour throughout with a selection of documentation shots, details from the works and production stills.

Produced to accompany the staging of Dolven's film It Could Happen to You at the Northern Gallery for Contemporary Art in June and July 2001, the book features texts by Steven Bode and Michael Glasmeier, and an interview with the artist by Ele Carpenter.
