

PSYOP: An Anthology Metahaven

£16.00

Recognisably and fearlessly designed by Metahaven and densely illustrated, this uniquely original and experimental publication offers a fresh perspective on Metahaven's exceptional and versatile practice by offering reflections on how to understand the collective's work within a broader context, as well as by zooming in on their recent shift to moving image work.

It offers as-yet unpublished reflections on their practice by renowned and compelling voices, thinking through the various ways in which their sprawling body of work is embedded in the socio-political challenges of today, as well as in visual culture and art history.

Key Selling Points

Metahaven is an Amsterdam-based collective lead by Vinca Kruk (b. 1980) and Daniel van der Velden (b. 1971) their work crosses over between filmmaking, art, research, and design. They have produced documentary based works, music videos, writings, publications, and lectures that investigate notions of propaganda, truth, and identity, especially with regard to the structuring of our symbolic realm.
