

Lawrence Carroll

As the Noise Falls Away

£30.00

Few artists and even fewer painters work with the observation of the inconspicuous like Lawrence Carroll. His art emerges from a series of highly sensitive processes in which personal perception, the hand of the artist, the painting materials and the place of presentation come together in aesthetic harmony. In this process the search for personal clues merges into the creation of new ones which can be seen as distillations of his ideas and formative actions for the image.

This publication documents a selection of works specifically compiled by the artist for the historic spaces of the Kloster Unser Lieben Frauen art museum. Paintings from the early phase of his work encounter current work groups. The unusual group the Magdeburg paintings was specially created for the exhibition.
