

Gelatin

Vorm – Fellows – Attitude

£20.00

In the exhibition, Vorm – Fellows – Attitude at the Museum Boijmans Van Beuningen, the artist collective Gelatin explores the disparate possibilities of what sculpture can be, disarming taboos that can prejudice, discomfort, and fear.

The topic—the lowest common denominator Gelatin could agree on—was shit and its precise realization through gigantic sculptures and naked visitors that aims to include everyone. It's about form, togetherness, and attitude.

The book presents various images of the work's development and exhibition, with texts by Peter Sloterdijk, Dieter Roelstraete, Francesco Stocchi, and Sjarel Ex, as well as a detailed conversation between Scott Clifford Evans and Gelatin. A poster is enclosed with the book.

Published on the occasion of the exhibition Gelatin: Vorm – Fellows – Attitude at Museum Boijmans van Beuningen, Rotterdam, 2018.

Product Details

Artist(s)	Gelatin
Author(s)	Scott Clifford Evans, Sjarel Ex, Dieter Roelstraete, Peter Sloterdijk, Francesco Stocchi
Publisher	Koenig Books
ISBN	9783960984320
Format	Softback (swiss binding)
Pages	80
Illustrations	75 colour, 1 b&w
Dimensions	240mm x 190mm
Weight	520

Publication Date: Oct 2018

Key Selling Points

- Austrian collective Gelatin (also gelitin) consists of four artists (Wolfgang Gantner, Ali Janka, Florian Reither and Tobias Urban). They met for the first time at a summer camp in 1978 and have been working together internationally since 1993.