Salad Dressing Performance Re-enactment Society and Tom Sowden

Salad Dressing is a cover of Ed Ruscha and Mason Williams' photo novel Crackers, 1969.

Ruscha's original book became the script, score, instruction, and inspiration for this new performative bookwork by artists Performance Re-enactment Society and Tom Sowden.

The final chapter of the bookwork was a performance at Arnolfini in spring 2011. This event was documented and is also now available to view online.
