

Sarah Lucas / Hieronymus Bosch / Gelatin

£28

The 500-year gap between the artists Hieronymus Bosch, Sarah Lucas and the artist group Gelatin is suspended in this special project.

New experiences of insight, far removed from museal ordering, are made possible through the juxtaposition of their work. The artists are connected by aspects of divergence, alienation and opposition in their work.

The open experimental ordering is intended to stimulate a fruitful dialogue through new connections between the positions as well as to test the fundamental constellations of various epochs.

Most important is the fact that the structures of meaning formed by the juxtaposition of the works of art can be comprehended both as founding as well as denying meaning. One thing is clear: fantasy is one of the major driving forces of art!
